Foreword

The Centennial Parklands Equestrian Centre is one of the world's great urban equestrian assets.

Inside these remarkable Parklands is found a complex of stables, riding tracks, equestrian infrastructure and supporting networks.

It allows the people of Sydney and their visitors to enjoy an equestrian experience like no other.

This Code of Conduct has been written, with the support of equestrian users, to ensure that we all participate in the delivery of a safe, effective and accessible equestrian facility.

Centennial Parklands is a complex and busy site. This requires us to share our space with many other users. This Code of Conduct will support your activities in the park while protecting you and other park users during your activity.

Please read and share this Code of Conduct, comply with its guidelines, support your fellow riders and respect other park users.

Help us to protect and preserve our equestrian activities in Centennial Parklands.
